About us

Academic excellence meets industry immersion

Newcastle University has a proud tradition of academic excellence, spanning more than 180 years. Our London campus brings a Russell Group education to a major world city for business, finance and commerce.

Excellence with a Purpose

Newcastle University is a world-class university, committed to excellence with a purpose. The reputation and success of the University are backed up by the high-quality learning and teaching experience that we provide our students. We are ranked in the top 10 in the UK for student experience*, and our commitment to education for life is supported by our strong graduate employability record.

As a university we are committed to diversity and are proud of our international outlook. Our London campus enables us to expand our reach, and connects our world-class research to industry and the wider global community.

Networks and communities

Newcastle University London students are part of a selective, friendly and supportive learning community. They foster strong working relationships between lecturers and fellow classmates, and benefit from being part of the wider Newcastle University community of alumni and partners. With over 180,000 graduates in more than 200 countries and independent states you can be sure that you'll never be too far from a fellow Newcastle graduate.

An industry-immersive education

Through our location in the heart of the City of London, we have established partnerships with a range of national and international businesses, start-ups and enterprises headquartered in the capital. This allows us to offer a truly industry-immersive education (see page 19), enabling students the opportunity to gain the theoretical and practical skills required to realise their potential and become tomorrow's business leaders.

Quality assurance

All degrees offered at our London campus meet the same rigorous quality standards as the home campus degree programmes. The UK has a rigorous quality assurance system which means that all higher education institutions, including Newcastle University London, must meet a high standard in order to operate, and the quality of our research is assessed through the Research Excellence Framework (REF).

Our business degrees have been designed by Newcastle University Business School, which holds triple accreditation (AACSB, AMBA and EQUIS†). This puts our programmes in the top 1% of business programmes worldwide.

Good to know

Newcastle University was recently awarded Gold in the Teaching Excellence Framework, 2017.

* Times Higher Education Student Experience Survey 2017.

 Top 200 for graduate employability (QS Graduate Employability Rankings 2017, ranked out of 2,300 world universities).

About Us

Ten reasons to study with us

Our industry-immersive approach to teaching and learning is focussed on providing students with the practical skills needed to succeed as a global business leader of the future. Our degrees include opportunities for work experience, internship and placements with national and international brands based in the capital. Combine this with a programme of weekly masterclass events, practical projects and regular guest lectures from teaching professionals and you have everything you need to take your career to the next level.

1. International outlook

We bring the best of Newcastle University to the capital – global top 200 university (Times Higher Education World University Rankings 2017/18).

2. Teaching excellence

Newcastle University is proud of our TEF gold award in the Teaching Excellence Framework 2017, demonstrating consistently outstanding teaching and learning.

3. Industry-immersive education

Begin your career connected. From day one, you'll learn from academics with industry experience to develop the skills sought after by top global companies. More on page 18.

4. Real business projects

Nothing makes a CV shine like real industry experience. That's why our undergraduate and postgraduate students undertake business projects in real-life environments, gaining a valuable insight into the world of work.

5. World-class work experience opportunities

All of our students are entitled to apply for work placements, whether you are studying on a university preparation, undergraduate or postgraduate programme. It's a great opportunity to gain first-hand business experience, hone your skills, and make career-boosting connections.

6. High-profile public events

We host regular public lectures with leaders of industry, always inspiring, always free to attend. Past events include lectures themed on the EU referendum and corruption in sports.

7. Our London location

Our campus is a stone's throw from the Square Mile, where three quarters of US Fortune 500 companies have offices. Meanwhile, Shoreditch – one of London's most distinctive and culturally rich areas – is only a few minutes away by foot. More on page 12.

8. Small campus in a big city

The prospect of studying in one of the biggest cities in Europe may be a little daunting, but we bring the warm, friendly and supportive community of Newcastle University to the capital. We believe in personal education, with an intimate, supportive learning environment and dedicated support staff. More on page 16.

9. A truly diverse environment

University is about more than just academia – live and learn alongside teachers and friends from the UK and across the world.

10. Lifelong graduate connections

Attend regular networking events and connect with Newcastle University graduates, both on and off campus. You can also use the Graduate Connections database to get in touch with alumni from all around the world, who can provide advice and guidance when it comes to taking the next step in your career.

Explore London

Academic excellence meets location

Welcome to London, a world-leading financial centre immersed in history and culture.

An inspiring place to live and learn, London has a vast array of parkland, landmarks and museums. It is also a diverse and welcoming city with people of more than 270 nationalities calling London home.

Britain's business and industry hub

London is home to 70 FTSE 100-listed companies and some 400 Fortune 500 companies – which makes it the perfect location for business students. The campus sits on the edge of London's Square Mile, home to thousands of national and international businesses.

The green capital

London is one of the greenest capitals in the world with more than 3,000 parks and open spaces. If you've got a free afternoon and the sun's shining, pack a picnic and check out the panoramic views from Primrose Hill, or relax with a trendy crowd on London Fields or Victoria Park.

Sporting heroes

The Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park is home to a variety of world-class sports facilities. For those who prefer to spectate, London has more than 40 football teams, from Premiership stars to local heroes. There's cricket at Lords, and you can pop to Wimbledon for tennis with strawberries and cream.

Good to know

London has over 200 free museums.

Free London fun

One of the best things about studying in London is just how much fun you can have on a small budget. There are numerous free galleries and museums, alongside a number of festivals which are either free or heavily discounted for students. Whatever you do, don't forget to set a calendar update for Notting Hill Carnival, the Totally Thames Festival, and of course, Chinese New Year – London's Chinatown holds the biggest celebrations outside of Asia!

Explore London

As Samuel Johnson once said:

“...when a man is tired of London, he is tired of life; for there is in London all that life can afford.”

Arts and culture

Explore world-famous museums and galleries for free! Must-sees include Tate Modern, the British Museum, the National Portrait Gallery and the Science Museum. Stand face-to-face with a T-Rex at the Natural History Museum, see the best new contemporary art at The Saatchi Gallery in Sloane Square, or head to the British Library to see the Magna Carta first hand.

Theatre and music

Experience authentic Shakespearean plays at the Globe Theatre, or take in the big name shows in the West End. Be part of the Proms at Albert Hall, support up-and-coming acts in local bars, listen to jazz at Ronnie Scott's, or dance at 1,000ft at the Shard's silent disco. There's truly something for everyone!

Food and drink

Love eating out? You'll love London. From quirky pop-ups to Michelin star restaurants, there are tasty options. The cuisine is as diverse as the people who call London home. You can eat your way around the globe: bagels on Brick Lane for breakfast; world-class dim sum in Chinatown for lunch; Brazilian BBQ for dinner; Sri Lankan street snacks for supper; a curry if you're still hungry, the list is never ending.

Shopping

In London, there are shopping opportunities to suit every taste and budget, from chic boutiques to brilliant bargains. Oxford Street and the Westfield Shopping Centres are perfect for high street shopping, while high end boutiques include Harrods, Liberty and Selfridges. For vintage, head to Brick Lane or Camden Market.

Local London

With our campus in the coolest part of town, it's impossible not to have fun.

Newcastle University London sits between the Square Mile, the City's main business district and Shoreditch, a buzzing area alive with fashionable shops and creative people.

Eating and drinking

Food Village on Shoreditch High Street offers everything from burritos to steak sandwiches, while Spitalfields, Petticoat Lane and Brick Lane markets also sell a range of international cuisines. Meanwhile, students who are lucky enough to book a table at Sushi Samba can experience the best of London's fine dining scene.

Arts: in and outdoors

Here, art isn't just confined to galleries and museums, such as the outstanding Whitechapel Gallery and the interactive Red Gallery. Take a stroll to Shoreditch from Brick Lane on the trail of Instagram-worthy graffiti, and you might even spot a famous Banksy!

Music and nightlife

Close to campus, the Magic Roundabout is one of London's most unique live music venues, accessible via a secret staircase and located in the middle of Old Street roundabout. Big name acts like Florence and the Machine are hosted at The Macbeth, while The Old Blue Last plays upcoming music acts.

Retail therapy

Fed up with samey high street shopping? You'll love Shoreditch, known for its variety of vintage stores. BOXPARK and Redchurch Street are packed with boutiques. You can also head to Columbia Road, which transforms into an oasis of foliage and flowers every Sunday.

An inspirational skyline

The Square Mile is packed with inspirational modern buildings. Spot the 'Cheese Grater', and perhaps even spend your work placement in Lord Norman Foster's iconic Gherkin. For a glimpse into the city's rich history, the Tower of London (home to the Crown Jewels), is just a 20 minute walk away.

Sport

If you love football, you'll love Shoreditch Lucozade Powerleague. The 13 outdoor pitches are located opposite Shoreditch High Street overground station.

Explore London

Find your place in the heart of London

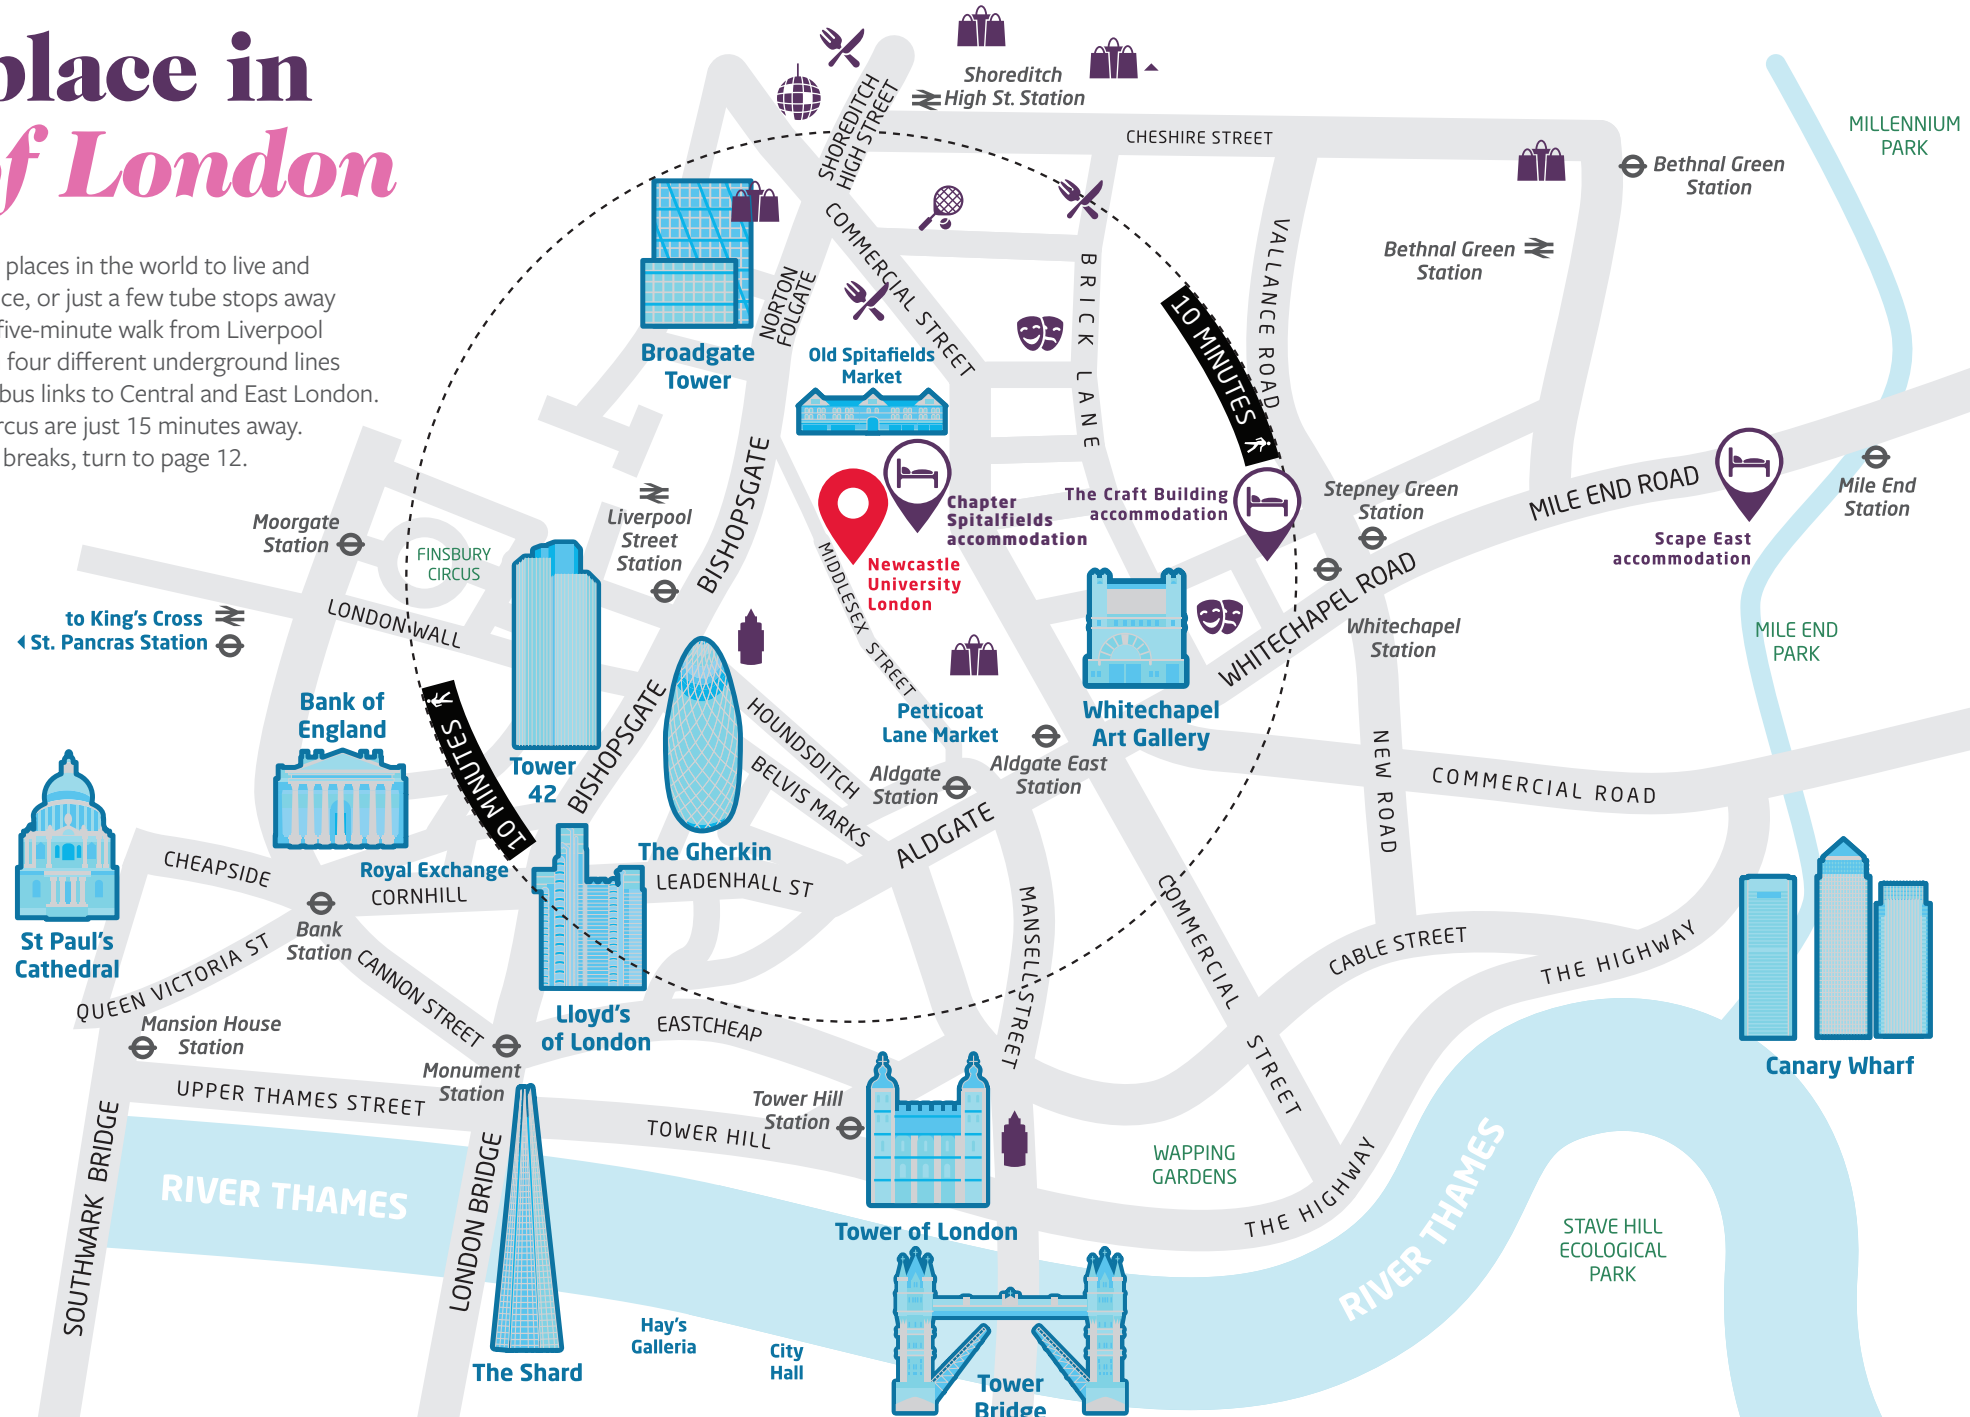

The City of London is one of the most inspiring places in the world to live and learn and our campus is either in walking distance, or just a few tube stops away from all of the major attractions. We are just a five-minute walk from Liverpool Street Station in Zone 1, where you can hop on four different underground lines and National Rail services. There are also good bus links to Central and East London. Oxford Street, Covent Garden and Piccadilly Circus are just 15 minutes away. For inspiration about what to do on your study breaks, turn to page 12.

Fancy heading further afield?

Newcastle University London has excellent transport links nearby. Newcastle is three hours by train from London King's Cross. At the weekend it's also easy to explore other parts of the UK, like Brighton, Oxford, even scenic Cornwall. You can also visit other European cities including Paris, Brussels and Lille using the Eurostar train based at St Pancras. London is also well connected by air, with major international airports within easy reach.

Campus

A warm welcome meets great facilities

The Newcastle University London campus building is a sleek, purpose-built building on Middlesex Street, minutes from Liverpool Street Station.

First-rate facilities

You'll work towards your degree in a modern, high-quality learning environment. It's a great space, designed to help you focus on achieving your full potential. We're well equipped with study pods for quiet learning, multi-purpose lecture theatres and seminar rooms complete with interactive whiteboards. These flexible spaces support lectures, practical sessions, seminars and tutorials. You'll also benefit from high-quality IT and e-learning resources, as well as Bloomberg terminals to give you hands on practical experience of financial trading.

When it's time for a break, there are plenty of social spaces too. If you're feeling hungry, our campus café serves a range of snacks and drinks, and we also have a number of breakout areas including table tennis facilities. There are also plenty of student hangouts close to the campus, including cafés, restaurants and bars.

The Learning Resource Centre

For all our students, our well-equipped Learning Resource Centre is the place to go for learning materials. These include core textbooks, DVDs, CDs and newspapers, as well as printing, copying and scanning facilities. You'll also have access to Newcastle University's wealth of online learning resources, including over six million ebooks and electronic journals. Best of all, our experienced and friendly team are on hand to help you make the most of the resources available.

Master's suite for postgraduate students

The master's suite is a dedicated area for postgraduate students to complete assignments and unwind in between lectures. It's a pleasant, quiet, independent study space, with IT facilities.

Modern IT facilities and e-resources

Students have full access to on-campus IT facilities and can take advantage of the free wireless internet available. Additional study resources include a virtual learning environment, giving access to reading lists, programme handouts, online assessment and discussions. We also provide a supportive online learning system if English isn't your first language.

Gym facilities

Look after your body as well as your mind by joining either the Fitness First gym next door to our campus, or the University of London Student Central gym and pool facilities just a few tube stops away. Students enjoy discounted membership rates, and you can make the most of facilities including a cardio theatre, free weights, spin studio and personal trainers.

Good to know

London campus students can access Newcastle University's online ebooks and e-journals, of which there are over six million.

Extra resources right on your doorstep

Living in London gives you convenient access to a wealth of library, sporting and social facilities. For example:

- Local libraries include the Bishopsgate Institute, The Barbican Library and The British Library
- Olympic Park – home of the 2012 Olympic Games – is just three tube stops away
- Hundreds of cafés, bars, restaurants and pubs in nearby Spitalfields Market, Petticoat Lane and the foodie's paradise that is Brick Lane
- Worship spaces for all faiths – the Student Service team will be happy to provide you with more information

Skilled, approachable staff are on hand to assist students, offering individual training on the resources to help you make the most of your time here in London.

Your Career

Inspiration meets industry

From our base in one of the world's top financial centres, our students benefit from regular exposure to the world of global business coupled with a Russell Group education.

As a result of the networking opportunities provided by Newcastle University London, Ania, an MSc International Business Management student, secured a job offer before graduating. She says:

It's really great that Newcastle University London enables us to showcase our strengths in front of the right people, and find a way into the hidden job market. One networking opportunity brought the unexpected prospect of working at Capita Learning Services. It's a great experience and the project management role really adds to my overall learning experience.

At Newcastle University London, we're here to support you in becoming a global business leader of the future.

This starts with strong academic foundations, and blossoms through regular exposure to the real business world. Taking advantage of our location on the edge of London's financial district, we work hand-in-hand with industry to help you develop an enviable skill-set, and the knowledge base top employers demand.

Why is an industry-immersive education so important?

Top global employers demand more than a theoretical knowledge of business. So to compete in a challenging graduate employment market, you'll need to stand out. We combine academic theory with opportunities to work on real-life business projects.

By spending time in industry you will:

- Build your professional network
- Gain real life business experience
- Benefit from the personal advice of business leaders who have reached the top of their respective professions
- Put the classroom theory into practice in the real world

What does industry-immersive mean?

We provide a range of opportunities to engage directly with industry as part of your study experience. In addition, you will gain practical business experience. You will take part in real-life business projects, attend professional masterclasses and public debates, network with alumni based in the capital and potentially undertake a work placement with a leading organisation.

A sample of our partners in industry:

As a company with a global focus, we are proud to support students studying for an international degree. We hope to be able to offer practical insights and experience through helping with teaching, assignments and work experience.

Your Career

Careers Service

Newcastle University's Careers Service is multi-award winning. The team offer advice and support for students seeking a graduate career, starting a business or embarking on further study. Dedicated staff will help you plan your career, market your skills, build contacts and find jobs. You can also attend the 'Gain a Global Advantage' day, an afternoon of inspiring talks, interactive workshops and networking opportunities with prestigious employers – all with a global focus.

Masterclasses

Top business leaders give free weekly masterclass talks to our students. Previous speakers have included the Head of Luxury and Fashion, the London Evening Standard, former House of Fraser CEO, the former CEO of Granada Group, the director of Daytime and Lifestyle at ITV Content, the former Procter & Gamble global senior executive, and the co-founder of Leaderscape. Use the sessions as an opportunity to find out the secrets of their success!

Public debate series

Regular public debates help you stay well-informed. They're free to attend, and previous events have focused on the EU referendum, corruption in sports and Lord Allen of Kensington's career.

Alumni events

Many Newcastle University graduates occupy senior roles across London. We hold regular networking events and welcome successful professionals to meet our current students. Connecting with alumni is a great way to potentially further your career.

Work placements and internships

Supplement your studies and gain invaluable real-world experience by taking part in a placement as part of your degree. We offer everything from one year placements for our undergraduate students, to shorter placements for our postgraduate and foundation students. Options can include a three-month internship – sponsored by Santander – to an exciting range of shorter CV-enhancing placements. We have dedicated support to help you find a placement, and have secured a number of internships exclusively for Newcastle University London students.

Entrepreneur support

If you have a business idea, we have a programme in place to support you on your entrepreneurship journey. Many Newcastle University students and graduates turn their business ideas into reality, including gin brand NOVELTEA, which recently launched in Fenwick department store.

Good to know

You are able to attend free weekly masterclasses to gain an insight into different industries.

Business-focused degrees

A number of business leaders sit on our Advisory Board to make sure our strategic direction – and the courses we offer – are perfectly aligned with the needs and ambitions of the global business community. Companies represented include: RWE Supply & Trading, Avalon, Irwin Mitchell LLP, Capita Civil Service Learning, Barlow Wells, AES International and Newton Euro.

Industry guest lectures

Lectures and seminars include presentations from leading industry figures.

Practical projects

Throughout your studies, you'll enjoy many opportunities to develop and improve your management, strategic and decision-making skills. Typically this will include activities such as:

Group projects – A great way to showcase skills, such as time management, team working, budgeting, presentation and leadership skills, as you put theory to work in a small team. Past student projects have included a live challenge at Spitalfields market and a real business simulation.

Individual assignments – A chance to let your personal abilities really shine, working on a practical project set by a well-known businesses. Previous students have, for example, written case studies on organisations such as Marco Pierre White and Zaha Hadid Architects.

Find out more about careers support at: www.ncl.ac.uk/london/careers

The Spitalfields Market challenge was a good opportunity for us to put our theoretical knowledge into practice and demonstrate our ability to work as a team. On top of that it was a lot of fun!

Student Support

Supporting you to achieve your ambitions

Dedicated services to help you make the most of your education

Whether it's your first time living away from home, you're joining us from a different country or you're returning to education from the world of work, we offer a full suite of support services to help you take control of your education and make the most of your university experience.

Welcome Desk

The Welcome Desk is the hub of campus activity, and is the first stop for all students needing to access our support services. Throughout the year, our friendly Student Support Services team is on-hand to provide help and advice on all aspects of student life. These include academic support, student welfare, accommodation and finance, as well as visa and immigration advice for international students.

The Welcome Desk is open throughout the day Monday-Friday. We also offer a 24-hour phone number that students can call in the event of an emergency.

Academic support

Tutors and peer mentors provide support from an academic perspective. You'll be assigned a personal tutor to help you with your academic development. Turn to them for practical advice and guidance on issues such as preparing for exams and helping to signpost relevant careers and skills development. If you're feeling stressed or worried they can help you balance your study and personal life too.

Student welfare

If you'd prefer to talk in complete confidence, you can also book an appointment with our welfare adviser to discuss any concerns or issues.

Induction week

During induction week, you're invited to take part in a full orientation programme. It's designed to help you settle in before your course starts, and includes:

- A formal welcome to the University
- An introduction to your course lecturers and/or teachers
- An introduction to Student Support Services
- A tour of the learning and teaching facilities
- An optional tour of the local area
- Help and advice on topics such as how to register at a local doctor's surgery or open a bank account
- An information fair
- Lots of fun social events – there's more about that on page 27
- British Residence Permit collection sessions for international students

Space to reflect and worship

London is a modern cosmopolitan city with a diverse population of all faiths, served by a comprehensive range of places of worship.

Useful information

Student Support

International students

Supporting you at every stage of your journey, from choosing your course, to help with visa and immigration, to social activities on campus, ensuring you feel at home straight away.

Planning your studies

Whether you plan to study for a degree or on a university preparation course, we regularly travel overseas to provide advice and guidance to students hoping to start their studies with us. Why not review our travel plan online to see when we are in a city or town near you: or, contact us on: newcastlelondon@ncl.ac.uk to request more information.

You're very welcome to visit before you apply. Book your campus tour at <http://bit.ly/2cIRFFM>

Your application to Newcastle University London

To find out how to apply, see pages 52 and 53.

Applying for a visa

To find out whether you need a visa to study in the UK, please visit www.gov.uk/check-uk-visa

If you do need a visa, the Visa Team here at Newcastle University London can provide assistance with immigration questions, like applying to renew your student visa, rules for working in the UK during and after your studies. Contact the team before you arrive in the UK by emailing newcastlelondon@ncl.ac.uk, or visit the Welcome Desk.

English language requirements

If English isn't your first language, we'll ask for evidence of your proficiency as part of your application:

- Undergraduate and postgraduate MSc students – IELTS score of 6.5 or equivalent*
- PhD students – IELTS score of 7.0 or equivalent
- University preparation programmes – IELTS score of 5.5 or equivalent*

* These may vary between courses. Always check specific course pages online for the most up to date entrance requirements.

If you don't meet the requirements yet, it's worth considering the Pre-Sessional English programme. For more information, visit page 51.

Integrated Undergraduate Programme

International students that do not meet the academic requirements of our undergraduate degrees can study an Integrated Undergraduate Programme. It is a four-year course (or five for students that carry out a work placement as part of their degree), combining an International Foundation in Business with an undergraduate degree, and only one visa is required for the duration of the course.

For more information, visit page 37.

Good to know

Students of multiple nationalities and courses study under one roof at Newcastle University London, so you'll have the chance to make friends from all over the world.

 Subject to final university approval

Support for international students

Our friendly student support and academic teams are here to help you settle into your new life in London and we're confident you'll soon feel at home.

Welcome week

The support starts as soon as you arrive. Once you've unpacked, welcome week begins. This full orientation programme includes:

- Registration
- Formal welcome to the university
- Help opening a bank account
- A trip to collect your biometric residence permit
- City tour
- Advice on how to register with the police
- The all-important social programme – there's lots of fun planned, from boat trips to parties. Find out more on page 27.

Academic support

Every new student is assigned a personal tutor – a member of the academic team you can talk to about how your studies are progressing. You'll be introduced during your first week of studies, and will be invited to meet regularly:

- International Foundation students meet with their personal tutor once a term
- All other courses meet with their personal tutor at least twice in the first semester, then once per semester thereafter

On-campus English language assessment and support

We ask most international students to take a short English language assessment upon arrival to identify any additional language support you might need.

If you've achieved a high IELTS score (or equivalent), or you're joining us from a country where English is widely used, you may be exempt from the test. Find out more at <http://go.ncl.ac.uk/london/ucla>.

If you're not a native English speaker or studying an English language course, we offer up to 10 hours of free in-session English classes per week and opportunities for one-to-one tutorials. These are designed to help you improve your academic writing, listening, speaking, pronunciation and grammar skills.

Social Life

Your experience goes beyond the classroom

Some of the most inspiring connections you'll make at university will be outside of the classroom. As well as gaining a first-class education, you'll meet great people and make amazing memories.

Your personalised London guide

Before you join us, you'll receive a Newcastle University London Students' Union (NUSU) Connections survey. Tell us a little more about yourself and your interests, and the team at the SU will research fun stuff on your behalf, and provide information to help you make the most out of London. The survey also matches you with other students with similar interests. It's a great way to make new friends before term even starts; chat and get to know each other online, so when you arrive on campus and meet face-to-face you'll feel more at home from day one.

Freshers' week

Your first term starts with a social programme called 'Freshers' week' – there are no lectures, just lots of fun events to help you connect with other students. These typically include:

- Boat trip on the River Thames
- Food, pizza, tea and cake receptions
- 'Meet and greet' with academics
- The Freshers' Fair – see what you can get involved in whilst you're studying
- Tours and local area activities to help you make the most of our fantastic location
- Evening socials in local bars, clubs and restaurants

Newcastle University London Students' Union

Newcastle University London Students' Union is here to help you connect with fellow students outside the classroom. Make the most of your student experience, keep up your old hobbies and interests and explore new ones. Whether you are into squash or sumo, cricket or curling, the Union is your link to a wide range of activities in one of the world's most exciting cities.

Socials throughout the year

We also run social events throughout the year to help you make the most of the local area. Join in with events including:

- Trips to London landmarks such as Hampton Court Palace
- Fun group activities, like ice skating and table tennis tournaments
- International food events with curry nights and Chinese banquets
- Sports nights – we screen all the major national sporting events including football, tennis, rugby and cricket
- Annual summer ball

Clubs and societies

There are a range of clubs and societies here at Newcastle University London. The Entrepreneur Society is one of the biggest and most active, working with organisations such as ReloadGreece that support students to develop their business idea and gain potential funding. If your passion isn't represented by the clubs already set-up, why not become a pioneer and start your own society? It's great way to make friends and enhance your CV.

University of London Students Central

You will have the opportunity to become a member of Student Central. This is a Students' Union for students across the 27 institutions that make up the University of London. Membership gives you access to a range of societies, sports and events, and allows you to connect with the wider London student population. For more information, visit www.studentcentral.london

Charity and volunteering

Lending a hand to worthy causes is a great way to make friends, connect with the wider community and boost your CV. The Students' Union will help you find volunteering opportunities such as student mentoring, or fundraising for charities like Providence Row, an innovative local charity that works to prevent and reduce homelessness, here in the East End of London.

Adventures on your doorstep

Although our campus community is friendly and welcoming, you'll want to make the most of our local area too. Multicultural Whitechapel is home to markets, galleries and contemporary exhibitions. While Spitalfields Market and the fiery flavours and buzzing bars of Brick Lane are just around the corner. Wherever you go, you'll stumble across up-and-coming fashion boutiques, independent art galleries, mouthwatering food markets – every study break is a mini-adventure.

Keeping happy and healthy

If you enjoy sport, or would like to get more active, you'll love living in London. From waterpolo, football, rugby, baseball to dodgeball, you can access some of the greatest sports clubs in the country. London was host to the 2012 Olympic Games, and the Queen Elizabeth Olympic park is just three tube stops from campus! Follow in the footsteps of Olympians at facilities including the Copper Box (host to handball, modern pentathlon, fencing and goalball in the Games), Lee Valley Hockey and Tennis Centre, Lee Valley VeloPark and the London Aquatics Centre.

If you fancy something sporty right on our doorstep, join the football club and play on the 5-a-side pitches in Shoreditch. Closer still are our on-campus facilities: there's a Fitness First gym right next door, plus table tennis tables for a fun break between seminars and lectures.

Accommodation A place to call home

Whether you're leaving home for the first time or you're a postgraduate student looking for somewhere quieter, we offer a range of safe, high-quality accommodation to suit every lifestyle.

Choose from a variety of options, including residences within easy reach of the campus, carefully selected homestay accommodation or privately let accommodation.

Scape East – Mile End

Less than two miles from campus
£10,150–£18,030*

This premium self-catering student residence is in the heart of the East End. Live alongside international and UK students in a sleek, self-contained studio of your own. These smart flatlets are carefully designed with space-saving storage, large windows to let in natural light, a luxurious en suite bathroom with an oversized power shower, plus your own integrated kitchen. Communal areas and organised activities make it easy to make friends, while individual bedrooms guarantee privacy when studying.

“Good quality and affordable student accommodation is what you get choosing Scape East.” – Justyna Zabawa, Accommodation Warden.

The Craft Building

Less than one mile from campus
£8,015–£13,965*

This newly refurbished building is two minutes' walk from Brick Lane and very close to Spitalfields Market – it's our top choice if you want quirky shopping, great eats and endless entertainment right on your doorstep. Transport-wise, Aldgate East and Whitechapel underground stations are just minutes away. Rooms are of a high standard and offer the choice of either premium en-suite or classic en-suite, arranged in friendly clusters of eight, with generous and well-equipped shared kitchens.

Chapter Spitalfields

Less than five minutes from campus

For prices, visit:

www.ncl.ac.uk/london/student-life/accommodation

Enjoy premium student living with excellent amenities, enviable views of the iconic London skyline and all just around the corner from campus. Chapter is only moments from the famous Gherkin in the City's business district and a three-minute walk from Liverpool Street, Aldgate and Aldgate East Underground stations.

student.com

We also offer a wide range of student accommodation through our partners at student.com, with a variety of different locations and prices starting from £99 per week.

Homestay

An environment more like the family home, options range from half-board (breakfast and evening meal) to self-catering, with locations throughout London. Students live with their host, sharing mealtimes and all the other normal amenities, like bathrooms and laundry facilities.

Private student accommodation

If you're on a budget a student house share can be a great option. These carefully selected homes-from-home are shared with other students from Newcastle University London. You'll have your own private bedroom, but will share communal spaces like the kitchen, bathrooms and lounge.

* Prices are for guidance only, based on costs for 2017–18 and will vary depending on programme of study. For those studying Academic English or Pre-session English, fees may be substantially lower than those above. Prices for 2018–19 will be updated online once released.

Funding and Finance

Investing in your future

Our quality of education and links with global organisations headquartered in London make a degree from Newcastle University London a sound investment. To help finance your studies, we offer a range of scholarships and some students can also apply for government loans.

Home and EU students

Tuition Fees

Undergraduate 2017–18: £9,250*

*The maximum fee that we are permitted to charge for UK/EU students is set by the UK government. Our undergraduate tuition fees for UK/EU students for 2018–19 have not yet been set but will be set and published online following government announcements. EU students studying at Newcastle will pay UK (home) tuition fees. As a general principle, you should expect the tuition fee to increase in each subsequent academic year of your course, subject to inflation and government regulations on fee increases.

Postgraduate 2018–19:

MSc Banking and Finance, MSc International Business Management and MSc International Marketing £7,800
PhD's £4,800

Student loans

Eligible UK/EU undergraduate students are entitled to a loan to cover the full cost of tuition fees while at university. You only start repaying your loan once you have graduated and earn more than £21,000 a year. Living cost loans are also available for UK students.

UK/EU postgraduate students who have not studied a master's degree before and are under the age of 60 might be eligible for a loan of up to £10,000, to help with tuition fees and living costs. You only start repaying your loan once you have graduated and earn more than £21,000 a year. Visit www.gov.uk/postgraduate-loan to find out more.

Government financial support for EU students entering UK universities in 2018 is not confirmed yet. For more information visit, www.gov.uk/student-finance.

Placement year fees

Undergraduate students who take a work placement year receive a significant reduction in the tuition fees for that year.

Check online for more information www.ncl.ac.uk/undergraduate/finance/tuition-fees/different-fees.

Visit our website for the most up-to-date fee information: www.ncl.ac.uk/london/finance.

Student loans

You may be eligible for a tuition fee loan from your home country. The UK Council for International Student Affairs website is a useful resource www.ukcisa.org.uk.

All students

Scholarships

We invest heavily in financial assistance for eligible students who choose to study with us. Our generous range of scholarships will support you during your studies. Scholarships can be in addition to government support and usually do not have to be paid back. To find out more about our scholarships and your eligibility, visit www.ncl.ac.uk/london/finance/scholarships.

Additional costs

Some of our courses involve extra costs that are not covered by your tuition fees. These include some subject-specific expenses such as extra equipment/materials for individual projects and some field trips. For further information on additional costs, see www.ncl.ac.uk/london/finance.

Undergraduate access support for home and EU students

We know that some students face extra challenges when applying to university. In some areas of the UK, going to university is unusual – and this can sometimes feel like a barrier for those who would like to study a degree. It might be that you've got loads of potential, but you're worried that your family may not be able to support you financially. Whatever your background, whatever the barriers, if you want to aim higher, we're here to help.

Our access schemes

Realising Opportunities

Newcastle University leads this award-winning scheme, which aims to encourage talented students from across the UK to apply to research-intensive universities including Newcastle. Find out more at www.realisingopportunities.ac.uk.

PARTNERS – Receive a lower offer For students from England and Northern Ireland

Are you:

- From a family with a low income?
- First in your family to apply to university?
- In care (or have been in care)?
- A high achiever but worried about getting your grades?
- Not sure where to get information about university?
- Worried about applying because you don't know anyone who's at university and don't know enough about it?

If you're less likely to go to university because of your family background, low income or school opportunities, our nationally recognised PARTNERS programme can help. PARTNERS is a supported entry route to help talented applicants overcome barriers to applying here. So far, Newcastle University has supported over 4,000 students to enter the University who might otherwise not have done.

A PARTNERS offer from the University will be lower than the typical offer*. As part of the conditions of the offer you have to successfully complete the PARTNERS summer school in the July of Year 13. The summer school includes introductory sessions in the subject area of the course you have applied to and sessions to develop key transitional skills necessary for success at university.

You'll also get: help with applying and understanding student finance; the chance to meet other students on the scheme; and to learn more about Newcastle University and student life here.

Check if you're eligible to apply and find out more about PARTNERS at www.ncl.ac.uk/partners.

*Meaning the A-Level (or equivalent), grades we ask you for are lower than normal. For example BBB, instead of AAB.

The European Union Referendum

The UK's 2016 EU referendum returned a 'leave' vote and the process for the UK leaving the EU has begun. The UK is expected to leave the EU in 2019. While this decision will have some consequences, no major changes will take place immediately and EU students entering Newcastle University in 2018 will continue to pay the UK (home) rate of fees.

Good to know

Newcastle University is in the UK top 20 for research power.

Newcastle University – REF 2014.

Cutting-edge research

Dr Natalia Yakovleva

Senior Lecturer in International Business Strategy

Natalia is helping to reform the way certain industries are understood, in both academic literature and the business world, particularly in the context of responsible business practices. She is embarking on a project called Global and Urban Metabolism of Potassium to feed the City as a co-investigator with the School of Civil Engineering and Geosciences at Newcastle University.

Dr Rama Kanungo

Lecturer in Accounting and Finance

Rama's teaching approach reflects real-life job situations, with practical assignments including business simulations where students compete with those at the Newcastle campus. His research interests are in a range of areas, from mergers and acquisitions to financial theory and management to risk and portfolio analysis.

Lecturer in Organisational
Behaviour and HRM

Elina has received the prestigious British Academy Small Grant Award to examine the ways in which women have developed entrepreneurial careers during the recent economic decline. Corporate business is traditionally thought of as male-dominated, but her study will challenge previous research findings. She has also led initiatives to enhance the student experience, including a funded project to enhance students' understanding of equality and diversity.

International Pathways

Academic English

This programme focuses on academic English and the study skills you need to succeed on your pre-university academic programme or university degree.

About the programme

This intensive English programme will develop your English language and academic study skills, as well as enhance your research and academic presentation abilities. The programme is delivered via a blend of face-to-face classes, where you will be among a supportive learning community, and online learning.

With multiple start dates and different durations of study, the course has the flexibility to cater for students with differing language abilities.

Visa requirements

If you are applying for a Student Tier 4 visa you must have an IELTS for UKVI to apply for your visa. If you have any questions about this test, please email newcastlelondon@ncl.ac.uk.

* The 16 week course is designed for students who need to increase their overall IELTS score by 1.0 but need to increase their level in two or more subskills. The course feeds into the January intake.

Pre-sessional English

A short and intensive preparation in academic English for academically qualified international students who are due to start an undergraduate or postgraduate degree at Newcastle University London in September 2018.

About the programme

On this programme you will learn with students studying the same, or similar subjects at university with a focus on content-specific vocabulary, grammar, style and structure. You will attend lectures from specialists on topics relevant to your future studies, and practise speaking English on topics related to your degree programme. This will enable you to adapt to living and studying in the UK prior to beginning your degree studies.

For Pre-sessional prices visit: www.ncl.ac.uk/london

Newcastle University London English Language Policy

Disclaimer

Although great care is taken in compiling this Student Prospectus, it is for the general guidance of prospective students only. This publication is intended for those who are interested in applying for admission to the university in 2018 and is intended as advance publicity for information and guidance purposes only. Details are correct at the time of going to press in October 2017. The most up to date and detailed source of information at any time is the website at: www.ncl.ac.uk/london

The matters covered by this publication are subject to change from time to time, both before and after a candidate's admission. Unavoidable changes may on occasion have to be made, affecting the availability of degree programmes, subjects, modules and options within degree programmes, and of additional opportunities such as placements. Reasons for change could be timetabling issues, changes in staff, requirements of programme-accrediting bodies, to reflect academic changes within subject areas, or due to minimum student numbers on a course.

Full details of the University's terms and conditions, including references to all relevant policies, procedures, regulations and information provision are available at: www.ncl.ac.uk/pre-arrival/regulations

Please see clause 36 of the terms and conditions at www.intostudy.com/newcastle-london/terms for further details of programme related fees for university preparation programmes.

Tuition fees:

For information on the latest tuition fees see page 30 and 31.

Fees for our undergraduate programme for 2018–19 have not yet been set but will be updated online following government announcements. Review our website for the latest fee information at www.ncl.ac.uk/london.

Accommodation:

Students on programmes of study lasting more than one year should be aware that that accommodation fees are subject to an annual revision and typically increase by up to 5 % per annum. Accommodation fees are set by the provider. We give students as much notice as possible of any increases.

The block accommodation fees quoted on pages 28 and 29 do not include the cost of meal plans, which are available on a half board basis. Please see www.ncl.ac.uk/london/student-life/accommodation for the most up to date costs.

Accommodation – English language courses:

The fees for both residential and homestay accommodation cover tuition periods only. If your course or study plan spans a vacation period, the accommodation must be paid for during the vacation period as well. Homestay accommodation is only available during vacations by special request and is not guaranteed. A supplement may be payable over the two week Christmas period. If you wish to leave your belongings with the host family during a vacation period, the full weekly amount will be payable. Please see the terms and conditions at: www.intostudy.com/newcastle/terms for information regarding the availability of residential accommodation over the Christmas period for under 18 students.

Equal opportunities

The University's Single Equality Scheme is our public declaration of our commitment to develop a fully inclusive University community, which recruits and retains talented staff and students from all sectors of society equally. www.ncl.ac.uk/diversity

Uniplan Insurance

Uniplan Insurance is a comprehensive insurance policy prepared specially for international students in the UK to cover loss of personal possessions as well as travel, health and medical claims.

Full travel, health and medical insurance is mandatory for all international students studying any programme at Newcastle University London and for European students studying a university preparation or English language course. Uniplan insurance will automatically be added to your programme fees unless you show that a suitable alternative cover has been provided. We strongly recommend however that all students have insurance. Please contact newcastlelondon@ncl.ac.uk for further information about suitable insurance packages.
